THE MECHANIC.

There he goes with steady tread,
Toiling for his honest bread;
Sleeves uprolled and cheek high flushed,
While the city still is hushed.
Oh! the strong mechanic!
The sinewy armed mechanic!
With his broad chest swelling to the stroke,
Of the hammer against the lusty oak,
Driving the nail with a hearty will,
Whistling or carolling, never still,
But even in labor doing His will,
Who loves the noble mechanic.

Etna smoke and Versuvius flame,
Oft are the allies of earth-born fame,
But to hew the rock from the vaunting cone,
And to change to blessings the flinty stone.
These do the mechanic!
The sinewy armed mechanic!
Giving his babes what God gave him,
Force of muscle, and vigor of limb,
Scorning the fear that his boys shall be,
The pampered weaklings of luxury,
Or his girls fair puppets for men to see;
The brawney backed mechanic.

But mind! I speak of the real thing,
Not of the kind who laugh and sing,
And shout at the travern and curse about,
And who care neither for themselves nor God;
But the true, the earnest mechanic,
The clean, white-souled mechanic!
The man who polishes head and mind,
While he frames the window, and shapes the blind,
And he utters his thoughts with an honest tongue,
That is set as true as his hinges are hung,
This is the nobleman, among
The noble band of mechanics.

God the Maker—I reverent say—
He is a worker by night and day,
Framer of skies, and builder of hills,
Making worlds by the space he fills,
He is the Master mechanic!
Making a palace of every star,
Fashioning out of the air, a car
For the sun to speed on his royal way,
Over the fire white track of the day,
Yes, God has labored—labors away—
Take cheer, then, noble mechanic!

Select Miscellany.

TWO HOURS WITH A MADMAN.

It happened one time that in travelling across a tract of country where I had business, I got benighted, and about 8 o'clock, my horse and myself being tired and pretty near worn out, I drew rein before the door of a comfortable looking farm-house, and dismounting, knocked at the door with the handle of my whip. It was opened by a little girl who stood in the door way, holding a candle in one hand, and keeping back her thick curly hair with the other, while she looked at me half shy, as if demanding my business.

"My dear," I answered to that questioning look, "is there any one in the house besides yourself?"

"Yes, there is," she answered; "father and mother, and the boys."

"Well ask your father to come here a moment, I want to speak to him."

She retreated and entered the room behind her, and in about a half a minute the farmer came out. I made known my business, explained that I had been overtaken by night, that my destination was several miles distant and that my horse as well as myself were unfit for further traveling until we had procured food and rest.

With the hospitality common to all farmers, especially American, my host for the night bade me welcome, conducted me into a large kitchen, with a floor so white that you involuntarily pitied the hands and arms that had brought it into such a state of cleanliness, and bade me seat myself before the blazing fire while supper was being got ready; and then, not forgetting my horse, he told one of the boys to feed him and take him to the stable.

After supper, as I felt unusually tired, I asked to be shown the place where I was to pass the night, and was conducted to a comfortable room with a downy bed, white counterpane and curtains, upon the second floor, by my host himself; after bidding me good night, he left the candle with me and departed, closing the door after him.

Tired and sleepy as I was, I hurriedly undressed, went to bed, and in five minutes was soundly sleeping. A grinding sound awoke me—at what time I don't know—but the moon, which did not rise till very late, was fully up, its bright rays streaming through the window, from which I had purposely looped back the curtain, so that the first streak of daylight might wake me, as I was anxious to proceed on my way. There, sitting full in the moonlight was a man with a long carving knife in his hand, which he was sharpening upon a piece of grindstone, which I now perceived made the sound that had awakened me. I thought surely I was dreaming; or, if I was awake, what in the name of heavens meant what I saw? And still the man leisurely ground the blade of the knife, and in a perfect stupor of amazement I lay perfectly quiet with wide open eyes looking at him.

In a few minutes he stopped grinding, and passing his finger carefully along the edge of the knife he nodded and shook his head knowingly, to intimate to himself that he had brought the blade to a proper degree of sharpness. My blood ran cold; a kind of panic seized me when I saw that action and the cool calculating smile with which he held the knife up between him and the moonlight, looking at it with the air of a connoiseur. Then he leisurely got up, stepped over to the table where I had left the candle stick and commenced looking around for something—a match, I conjectured.

While his back was turned, the idea of slipping from the bed and bolting for the door suggested itself to me; but before I had time to act upon it, the match was found, and holding the candle in one hand, the match in the other, and the handle of the knife between his long, wolfish teeth, he came over towards the bed.—He lit the candle and then took the knife from between his teeth, and took firm hold of the candle in his hand. He bent over me flashed the light full upon my eyes, and perceiving I was awake, exclaimed, with a wild kind of laugh:

"Ha! ha! Awake, eh?—Ha! ha! Glad of it sir; I meant to awake you, if you hadn't done it yourself. I consider it cowardly to kill a sleeping man."

And he laughed at me again, and peered into my face with his red-hot burning eyes.

I could see at once that he was mad, and I saw the horror of my situation was increased.—At first I had thought—but now, I knew that he was a mad man from his own words, he intended to murder me, and I felt that little short of a miracle would save me.

After he had taken a good look at me, he sat down upon the bed and to my intense horror began slowly running his finger, with great care along the edge of the knife—evidently he had no intention of suffering by the experiment.—And then he said.

"I don't intend to kill you just now—perhaps not for an hour—but I guess that's about the longest you have to live. First, I mean to have a talk with you. Do you happen to know where I came from?"

I did not, indeed, and I told him so, wishing within myself, with all my heart, that he would take it into his crazy brain to find his way back there, and leave me to sleep in peace.

"You don't know, eh? Well, I don't mind telling you. Don't you see that spire away there to the left?"

No, I didn't see the church spire, nor anything else in the world at that moment, but the burning eyes of the maniac. So I told him I didn't see the object he spoke of.

"Don't see it eh? How blind? Why see there?" And to aid me in discerning this imaginery object, he rose and went towards the window and looped the blind still further back. There—do you see it now?"

"No," I said, "I don't see yet;" and I hoped he would try to pull the curtain still further back, or pull it down, or something—anything to divert his attention from me a moment longer, that I might leap from the bed and then bolt out of the room.

I was already sitting up, and to glide down upon the floor was the work of an instant; but that moment the madman, annoyed that I couldn't see the church spire, dropped the blind, turned around quickly, muttering—"blind, blind;" and instantly comprehending my intention to escape, bounded towards me with a spring like a wild cat, and catching hold of me with his bony hand, waved the gleaming knife over me in such close proximity to my face, as to be anything in the world but pleasant.

"Oh, you will, will you? Just lie down there—still now—still, or I'll kill you before even the half hour is up. Lie down!"

And with herculean strength he lifted me up with his one hand—and I was no feather in weight, I can tell you—and bounced me down with a force that shook the whole bed.

I did lie down, and seeing that I was inclined to obey, he directed my attention to the window again, by inquiring:

"Do you see the church spire, now?"

I didn't see it any clearer than before, it being slightly impossible, as no church spire existed within ten miles. But I saw that the maniac was getting irritated at my want of capability to see what did not exist, so I thought it might be as well to keep upon good terms with him, and to his question this time I admitted I did see the spire.

"Ah, good, good. Well, under that spire is a church and around the church is a grave-yard. There I live, and there I came from. It's very lonesome sleeping there in the damp, cold ground; and the grave worms—ugh! to feel them creeping along, over one's skin—so slimy, and slippery, and cold, banqueting upon the warm flesh of the dead! They say the dead are cold; it's a lie, sir, a lie!—Feel my flesh; is it cold?"

He bared his skinny arm and forced me to lay my hands upon it.

"There is that cold?"

I told him no.

"Is it warm?"

I replied that it was, and he continued:

"They make it cold—the grave worms do.—They make it cold and slimy as they crawl over it. Did you ever feel the grave-worms on your flesh?"

I shuddered with disgust as I told him, "No."

"You didn't, eh? Lucky dog, lucky dog! But you're not dead yet; wait awhile, and you'll feel them, just as I do, pretty soon."

And he whirled the carving knife round and round his head, and then brought it down with a sudden swoop till he grazed my throat.

With a groan of agony, not for the slight scratch, but the horror of mind under which I was, I recoiled from the glittering blade, shuddering as if I would have sunk down through the bed—down, through the floor. With a loud laugh the maniac observed my terror, and then he said.

"Frightened, eh? Frightened! I will not kill you for half an hour yet. I'm going to experiment upon you. I think I will bleed you to death, just to try how long it will take you to die, eh? What do you think of it?"

What did I think of it? My God! I thought nothing, only that I would soon be dead, or mad as my companion, if some deliverance was not soon opened up. I never prayed much—God forgive me! but just then, I breathed something, I scarcely knew what, for aid, for deliverance. I knew that I dared not attempt to escape. My first movement would have been the signal for my death blow; and if I called aloud, I might not awaken any one in the house, but merely infuriate the madman to such an extent he might immediately butcher me. What under heaven to do I knew not, and if the maniac, in his desire to "experiment," should open a vein, I would inevitable bleed to death. Meantime he was waiting for an answer to his question, and repeated, rather angrily,—

"What did I think of his proposal to bleed me to death?"

I was about answering something desperate, and giving myself up for lost when a bright idea flashed across my troubled brain. Oh, how devotedly I thanked heaven that I had read the "Arabian Nights" in my boy-hood! There was my idea, which as yet, only heaven knew whether it would be successful or not: I would tell him stories, and beguile his fancy till morning, and then surely, I would have some means of escape. I answered his question by another.

"Suppose I tell you a story about bleeding to death—or rather about a man supposed he was being bled to death, and died from the fright?"

"Died from the fright, eh? Let us hear it."

Very gladly I began, making it long, and adding as much as I possibly could to the original, which was something I recollected long ago to have heard about some one who wished to "experiment," and had a man blindfolded, his arm bandaged, and gently pricked, but not sufficiently to bring the blood, and then heard the regular drop, drop of blood—or what he supposed to be his own blood, though in reality only water, till he died from the mere supposition that he was being bled to death. I forget the story now, but is familiar to every one. When I concluded, I suggested to the maniac that he should try this model experimenting, and see how long I would take to be frightened to death.

"Yes, yes, he answered, with a sly, cunning laugh; "very good, very good," and seeing thro' the device, with the cunning of madness, he laughed again as he said—"Very good, sir, very good. And you would take till morning to die, and meanwhile I want a companion in the church yard yonder; down among the grave worms. Come, bare your arm, and let me do as I said. I'll bleed you I intended to have taken your head off first, but I've changed my mind, because I wouldn't like to have a headless companion. Bare your arm."

God! what was I to do! I felt my brain seethe and whirl, as though I, too were going mad. With a desperate effort to be calm, I said.

"Suppose I tell you another first?"

"Oh, no you can tell while you bleed."

"But I shall want to watch the blood flow too," I said, with an effort to refrain from shuddering.

"True, true," he said. "Well, let's hear your story—quick, begin."

I waited for no urging. I was too glad to find him in the humor to listen; so I began to relate every story I could think of—as soon as one was done beginning with another—and in this manner nearly two hours passed. As I was about to begin another story, he stopped me peremptorily.

"No more; no more! I won't listen! I've listened too long already, and I've no time to bleed you either! I may take off your head as I first intended disagreeable as it is to have a headless companion?"

Around and around his head again went the glittering knife, coming down in a direct line with my throat; and then as he drew the edge, sharp as a razor, touched my skin, I forgot the prudent consideration that had hitherto kept me silent, and gave vent to my horror and terror in a cry so loud and long, so shrill and ear-piercing, that the maniac started back in affright, and actually trembled at the unearthly sound. No wonder! I tremble this moment myself, when I think what an awful cry it was; and I almost fancy I can still hear the sound of it, when I close my eyes, and shudderingly look back to the hour.

The effect upon the madman was not of long duration. A third time he waved the knife around his head, and was just preparing forward when the farmer and his eldest son burst into the room. The effect that these new actors upon the scene produced upon the madman was strange and almost incredible. The knife remained uplifted, the hand in which it was held seemed suddenly petrified and unable to move. He cowered beneath the gaze of the farmer, as the child with do under the eye of the master, and without the slightest resistance, allowed the knife to be taken from his hand and himself quietly lead from the room by the farmer and his son.

Then, when I was left alone, the reaction after all my terror, horror, and excitement, overpowered me, and I sank back upon the bed almost insensible. Thank God for my escape and hardly conscious of my feelings and actions, I lay quite still, awaiting what was to follow. I felt that there was no further cause for alarm, and in a dreamy sort of a way I tried to account for the adventure.

I looked around upon the room, and all so seemed like a dream that I could almost have persuaded myself that I was a victim of an unpleasant illusion; but then, to bring me back to the realities of all that had transpired, there was still the light burning upon the table, and I knew I had put out the light before retiring; and another proof that I was awake, and had been for a couple of hours past, was the scratch upon my throat, where the knife had grazed it, and I shuddered to think how nearly my thread of life had been cut in two.

Presently the farmer and his son returned, and I was informed that my terrible and most unwelcome visitant was an unfortunate brother-in-law of the farmer, who had been crazed for some years past; that during certain seasons, especially at that phase in which the moon then was, he was quite mad and dangerous, though at other times harmless. Unfortunately for me, his door had been neglected that night, and instead of being locked had been left open. I listened to all these explanations, and received my host's apologies and expressions of regret for my disturbance and peril, by making a mental vow never to sleep with the door unlocked in a strange house, and if ever placed so that I should be obliged to crave the hospitality of strangers, to make particular inquiry whether any mad person, brother-in-law, or other, dwealt in the house.

WITTY PERVERSION.—A minister had a quarrel with one of his parishioners by the name of Hardy, who showed considerable resentment.—On the succeeding Sunday the divine preached from the following text, which he pronounced with great emphasis, and with a siguificant look at Hardy, who was present:—"There is no fool like the fool-Hardy."

IGNORANCE.—Ignorance is often the source or the most intrepid action, and the most implicit faith; since there are none so fearless as those who have not light enough to see their danger; and none so confident as they who have not sufficient knowledge to discover their own error.

☞ Christ is the sun, and all the watches of our lives should be set by the dial of his motion.

ONE HUNDRED YEARS AGO.—One hundred years ago, there was not a single white man in Ohio, Kentucky, Indiana, and Illinois territories. Then, what is now the most flourishing part of America, was as little known as the country around the mountains of the moon.—It was not until 1799 that the "Hunter of Kentuck," the gallant and adventurous Boone, left his home in North Carolina, to become the first settler of Kentucky. The first pioneer of Ohio did not settle until twenty years after this time. A hundred years ago Canada belonged to France, and the whole population of the United States did not exceed a million and a half of people. A hundred years ago, the great Frederick of Prussia was performing those exploits which have made him immortal in military annals, and with his little monarchy was sustaining a single handed contest with Russia, Austria and France—the three great powers of Europe combined. A hundred years ago, Napoleon was not born, and Washington was a young and modest Virginia colonel; and the great events in the history of the two worlds, in which these great but dissimilar men took leading parts, were then scarcely foreshadowed.

A hundred years ago, the United States were the most loyal part of the British Empire; and on the political horizon no speck indicated the struggle which, within a score of years thereafter, established the greatest Republic of the world. A hundred years ago, there were but four newspapers in America—steam engines had not been imagined and railroads and telegraphs had not entered into the remotest conception of man. When we come to look back at it through the vista of history, we find that to the century which has passed, has been allotted more important events, in their bearing upon the happiness of the world, than almost any other which has elapsed since the creation.

☞ A good story is told of a Washington county man, who on his way to Cincinnati became somewhat elevated by sundry "drinks," but as good luck would have it, found a boat at the wharf and was quickly on his way:

Soon after leaving the wharf, a man came around for his fare. Horrall handed out a five dollar bill, and received four dollars and ninety-five cents in change. He rammed it into his pocket-book with great eagerness, supposing the clerk had made a mistake. That done, he leaned back into his chair and fell asleep. A little while and he was plucked awake by the same man, who again demanded fare. "Discovered the mistake," thought he, holding out a handful of change. The man, as before, took only five cents, and Horrall again went into a doze. Ere he had got fairly to dreaming of home and friends far away, around came the collector again, and thus it went on for a long time.

At last Horrall thought it very inconvenient, and concluded to vote the collector a nuisance, and give him a bit of advice besides; so, said he—

Is (hic) this a da-n-ger (hic) ous bo (hic) boat?"

"By no means," said the man. "Bran new."

"Then, by gummy, (hic) why do (hic) don't you collect all the fa (hic) at once—not bother a fel (hic) heller for it every mile as it (hic) comes due?"

"Really," said the man, "where do you think you are going?"

"Cincin (hic) hinnati," said Horrall.

"Cincinnati," said the polite conductor; "why, you must be sadly out of your reckoning. This is the ferry-boat, and all this afternoon you have been riding to and fro between New Albany and Portland."

That night Horrall staid in Louisville.

COMFORTERS OUT OF NEWSPAPERS.—Soon after the advent of chilly nights, finding the extra covers too heavy, and remembering the suggestion of a year ago, I took off a weighty coverlid and substituted a half dozen copies of a popular weekly. I never slept more pleasantly. I mentioned it to some of my acquaintances, who, on trial of the past two weeks, pronounced it effectual. I used it on the beds in my house, and as nothing can be cheaper, I feel authorized to recommend it for general use. I had the curiosity to weigh the newspapers in use on my three beds, and the amount of all was only three pounds. The papers can be spread loosely, overlapping one another, though for convenience I have pasted the edges together. How trifling is the cost, and how easily obtained! A pound or two of old newspapers can be procured for four cents a pound, and if spread between two light covers to retain

Death of General Walker.

It has been lately telegraphed from New Orleans that General Walker and Colonel Rudler, who were supposed to have been shot, were not killed, but were expected by the next vessel from Truxillo. A later telegram, however, positively contradicts this report, and assures us that Walker was really shot on the 12th ult, and that Rudler is still a prisoner. The British steamer Gladiator, which brought the news, conveyed also the remnant of Walker's party, and thus ends this misguided enterprise, and Walker has met the reward of his many crimes against the laws of nations. We think that among sensible and patriotic citizens there should be little sympathy felt or expressed for him. When we consider how often he has been allowed to escape; the frequent terrible warnings he has had; the enormity of the offences he has committed against neighboring nations at peace with this country, and especially the frightful amount of suffering and destruction he has occasioned so many misguided men through his councils and rash enterprises, we may congratulate the country that we are at last rid of him.

A dispatch from New Orleans, states that Gen. Walker was shot. Ten shots were fired at him amid the cheers of the natives, who afterward refused to take any part in his burial.—He was buried by foreigners. Col. Rudler had been sentenced to four years imprisonment.

SAD ACCIDENT.—A sad accident occurred in the vicinity of Easton, in this State, on the 25th ult., by which a Mr. Leastner, a farmer, and his two sons lost their lives. It was at a cider mill; they have a very large tank to put the cider in for fermentation. The tank leaking, one of the sons went down to stop it. The foul air, together with the gas, suffocated him, and he fell to the bottom. His father heard him fall and went to his assistance, and in attempting to get his son out, he to fell in. A young man at work at the mill, in attempting to get them out, fell also, but succeeded in getting out. The other son attempted to rescue his father and brother, but fell to the bottom, and all three were drowned in about 18 inches of cider, or were suffocated by the foul air and gas.

☞ From the accounts that have reached us, of the terrible castigation we are to receive at the hands of the Tyrone Star this week, our friends need not be surprised if we are unable to attend the election next Tuesday, or get out our paper on time next week. Contrary to usual custom, the Star did not arrive by Tuesday evening's mail, consequently we are unaware of our fate, and are cut out of a reply this week. This thing of scaring people to death before they are hurt, we don't like, and we hope our cotemporary of the Star will hereafter spare our feelings by keeping "mum" until his sheet is issued. We should not be surprised if he made no reply, but we are now prepared for the worst; so "lay on MacDuff," &c.

ARREST OF COUNTERFEITERS.—Some time since three or four police officers of Pittsburgh made a pretty large haul of counterfeiters in Clarion and Butler counties, and discovered quite a pile of counterfeit money, dies, presses, &c., in the houses which they searched. The persons arrested were committed to the jail of the county in which they were found. One man, named James Wilson, of Sunbury, Butler county, in whose house they found dies, presses, and a considerable amount of counterfeit coin and paper money, is said to be a man of considerable means and took his arrest very hard. The men arrested are evidently part of a gang engaged in the business which may by this means be broken up.

MASS MEETING.—A mass meeting of the People's Party will be held in this place on Monday evening next, Oct. 8th, at which addresses will be delivered by Hon. Isaac Hazlehurst, of Philadelphia, and Hon. John C. Kunkel, of Harrisburg, who will certainly be present. The Huntingdon "Wide Awakes," accompanied by the band from that place, will be up, and we presume the Hollidaysburg "Wide Awakes" and band will also be on hand.

GLORIOUS NEWS FROM ITALY!—Garibaldi Triumphant.—The Adriatic has arrived at New York bringing the glorious news that Garibaldi entered Naples on the 8th, with only his staff, and was received with intense joy by the people. A provisional government was formed. Garibaldi consigned the fleet and arsenals to Admiral Persano of the Sardinian navy, and proclaimed Victor Emanuel King of Italy.

DECLINED.—A notice in the Standard of this week says that Robert Todd, Esq., the Democratic candidate for County Auditor, positively declines being a candidate for that office. Our friend Messimer has now a clear track and will doubtless be elected by a rousing majority

Resolved, That Messrs. H. M. Fuller, William M. Wright, William Lyon, John Roberts and William P. Seymour, are hereby appointed a Committee on behalf of the friends of Bell and Everett in Pennsylvania, with authority so to modify and change the Electoral ticket this day made, as shall best secure the harmonious action of all National men.

Resolved, That we recommend the holding of a Union State Mass Convention of all the citizens of Pennsylvania opposed to the Republican organization, at as early a day after the October election as practicable.

Secretary of Committee.

How the Prince of Wales Travels.

Some people, when they go from one place to another, calculate upon their "luck" in putting them through, others travel on their "muscle," others on their "beauty," others on their "talents," (very few in number,) others on their "impudence," and others on "dead head" tickets; but with Lord Renfrew it can be emphatically said that he travels on his money. From Cincinnati to Pittsburgh he pays the modest sum of two thousand dollars for a special train; but while he pays in accordance with royalty, he expects to receive immunities not granted to ordinary men. The train which bears His Highness has the entire right of the road. An engine specially detailed precedes to keep the track clear and look out for any imperfections in the road that would jeopardize the safety of the train containing the Prince and royal retinue.

The agent of the Prince, who is a cousin to him on Albert's side, arranges all his travelling matters, and stipulates in the bargain with railroad companies, that on no consideration shall any person be allowed on board the train except those necessary to manage it; and these are prohibited from entering the royal car, but ride by themselves in a forward car.

When the bargain was made with the Superintendent of the Little Miami road, to convey the Prince to Pittsburgh, the agent endeavored to incorporate in the contract that the Superintendent should ride on the front car, and when there was anything of interest to be seen on the road, to go back and point it out to the Prince; but the Saperintendent gracefully declined; whereupon the office was tendered to the Assistant Superintendent, who likewise declined, and at last accounts an individual willing to accept the position, was being searched for.—Cincinnati Gazette.

TERRIFIC SCENE.—The Spanish journals relate an alarming scene at a recent bull-fight at Saragrossa. After three bulls, which did not show much spirit, had been disposed of by the toreado Cuchares, a popular performer, a fourth was let loose, and he displayed great violence. He tore into shreds the bandarillas which were presented to him by the picadores, and then all at once leaped over a palissade at a spot where a soldier was standing, and injured the man that he died shortly after. A little later, the bull jumped over a barrier among the spectators.—Six thousand persons were assembled, and with cries and screams all rushed to the issues to escape causing a scene of frightful confusion.—The toreador, sword in hand, attempted to kill the animal, and several soldiers on duty attempted to kill the animal, and several soldiers on duty as sentinels endeavored to do the same with their swords and bayonets; some of the spectators, too, fired pistols at it, and in so doing wounded certain persons. At length the toreador got in front of the bull, and, with a stab skillfully applied, laid him dead at his feet. The journals do not say that any persons were killed or even injured in the subsequent confusion.

COMPLIMENTARY PRAYERS.—We have heard some prayers which were designed to affect the hearer rather than to reach heaven. The following anecdote of John Randolph is a keen rebuke to the practice.

In one or his spells of repentance and sickness he was visited by a minister who, at his request, prayed for and with him. The minister began in this wise: "Lord, our friend is sick. Thou knowest how generous he was to the poor, and what eminent service he has rendered to his country, and how he is among the honored and great men of the earth." "Stop, stop," said the impatient Randolph, "no more such stuff, else the Lord will damn us both."

A PRECIOUS SCOUNDREL.—There is a promising scoundrel on trial at Richmond for forgery. He gives his name as Miles Jones. Among others whom he victimized is an undertaker, who swears that he ordered of him a metalic coffin, and a shroud and cap, for a little girl nine years old. He wanted everything made as cheap as possible, since the deceased was a poor man's daughter. In payment for the bill which amounted to about $29, he offered a check for $80, purporting to be signed by Mr. Dass, and received in return $51. The undertaker, after having finished the work, presented the check to one of the city banks and found that it was forged.

MUSTER OF THE K. G. C.'s.—The Memphis Avalanche states that about two thousand members of the order of the Knights Golden Circle are at present quartered on the Rio Grande, prepared at any moment to pour into Mexico, where they will join the "Liberal" forces and proceed to the capitol. This body is under the command of Generals Brickley and Grier. Several hundreds of others at Memphis, which is to be the great centre of operations, are also preparing to go forward. It is to be hoped that the fate of Walker may cause some to reflect upon the dangers arising from such illegal expeditions.

TERRIBLE DOMESTIC TRAGEDY.—Merritt Stovall, of Middletown, Tenn., while suffering from insanity, killed his wife and four children with an axe, on Saturday night, ending the terrible tragedy by cutting his throat with a razor, and, to make assurance doubly sure, drowned himself.

PEN AND SCISSORS.

☞ Delightful—the weather.

☞ Col. E. L. Snow, the founder of the Sons of Temperance, died in New York on Sunday.

☞ Garibaldi's agents in Liverpool have purchased the Cunard steamer Canada, for $9,000.

☞ Philadelphia has one house for every seven persons: New York, one for every seventeen.

☞ There are now two hundred and fifty mounted men garrisoned at Carlisle, Pa.

☞ Mons. Berger, the champion billiard player of Europe, arrived at New York last week.

☞ The census returns, so far as received, show the city of Philadelphia to have a population of about 583 197.

☞ On Monday week nearly 50 children left New York in charge of the Rev. Mr. Van Meter, of the 4th Ward Mission, for homes in Illinois and Iowa.

☞ Two sons of Mrs. Millican, of Texas, got into a fight with each other, a few days since. One was shot dead, and the other mortally wounded with a bowie knife.

☞ The privilege to erect booths on the grounds of the St. Louis Agricultural Society, during their fair, has been sold for nearly eleven thousand dollars.

☞ At Peoria, Illinois, $301 has been subscribed to purchase seed-wheat for the people of Kansas whose crops were destroyed by the drought.

☞ Two blacksmiths in Brooklyn, N. Y., had a duel with sledge hammers the other day, and both were fatally injured.

☞ A printer, on seeing a bailiff closely pursuing an unfortunate author, remarked that "it was a new edition of the 'Pursuits of Literature,' unbound, and hot-pressed."

☞ The receipts of grain at Buffalo, on Thursday last, were enormous, and have, perhaps, no parallel in the history of the world. Nearly a million bushels, mainly wheat, were poured in in twenty-four hours.

☞ The two sons of Kossuth have joined Garibaldi's army, as well as one of his nephews, the son of the lately deceased Madame Kossuth Rulavsky. The young man embarked from New York for Europe on Sept. 22d.

☞ The Wide Awakes of Portland, Maine, offered a reward of fifty dollars for the detection of any person in casting an illegal vote at the election in that city. The consequence was that scores of names remained unchecked on the registry list. A good example.

☞ A blacksmith having been slandered, was advised to apply to the Courts for redress. He replied with true wisdom: "I shall never sue anybody for slander. I can go into my shop and work out a better character in six months than I could get in a court house in a year.

☞ The Grand Jury, of Philadelphia on Saturday, included in the list of nuisances in their presentment the squirrels in the public squares. The nuisance consists in the extermination of the birds, and the consequent ruin of the trees by caterpillars. The squirrels destroy the birds' nests and thus drive away the birds.

☞ Sixty years ago, a naval officer wishing to cross from Staten Island to Bergen, could find no person willing to undertake the job save a barefooted boy, who, despite the roughness of the sea, bravely rowed him to the place of destination. The officer was so pleased with his pluck that he got him a situation on a steamer, and that boy is Cornelius Vanderbilt, who is now worth over $13,000,000.

☞ "Where are you going?" said a young gentleman to an elderly one in a white cravat, whom he overtook a few miles from Little Rock, Arkansas. "I am going to heaven, my son; I have been on the way eighteen years." "Well, good bye old fellow, if you have been travelling towards heaven eighteen years and got go nearer to it than Arkansas, I'll take another route."

The advertiser, having been restored to health in a few weeks by a very simple remedy, after having suffered several years with a severe lung affection, and that dread disease consumption—is anxious to make known to his fellow sufferers the means of cure.

To all who desire it he will send a copy of the prescription used (free of charge,) with the directions for preparing and using the same, which they will find a sure cure for CONSUMPTION, ASTHMA, BRONCHITIS, &c. The only object of the advertiser in sending the Prescription is to benefit the afflicted, and spread information which he conceives to be invaluable, and he hopes every sufferer will try his remedy, as it will cost them nothing, and may prove a blessing.

Parties wishing the prescription will please address,

Age and Debility.

As old age comes creeping on, it brings with it many attendant infirmatives. Loss of appetite and weakness impair the health, and want of activity makes the mind discontented and unhappy. In cases where old age adds its influence, it is almost impossible to add vigor and health, and although many remedies have been tried, all have failed, until BOERHAVE'S HOLLAND BITTERS were known and used. In every case where they have been employed, they have invariably given strength and restored the appetite. They have become a great agent for this alone, and are used by many people who are suffering from loss of appetite and general debility. In cases of long standing chronic diseases, they act as a charm, invigorating the system, thus giving nature another opportunity to repair physical injuries. See advertisement in another column.

☞ It is a common observation that there are more sufferers from debility, among Americans than can be found among any other civilized nation. The reasons are obvious. We take too little exercise, and forget the wants of the body in the absorbing pursuits of business. In all such cases ordinary medicines can do little good. What is required is just such a tonic and invigorator as Dr. J. Hostetter has given to the world, in his CELEBRATED BITTERS. The weak and nervous denizen of the counting house, the exhausted toiler upon the shop-board, and the prostrated student of the midnight lamp, have found a wonderful repenerator in the "Bitters," and prefer it to more pretentious, but less efficacious medicines. But it should not be forgotten that the agent which is so magical in its influence upon a frame which is merely debilitated, is equally powerful in assisting nature to expel the most terrible form of disease. Who would not give it a trial?

Sold by druggists and dealers everywhere.

Toram's Furniture Warehouse.

This establishment is becoming one of the most attractive "Institutions" of the Quaker City, and the place where housekeepers "most do congregate." Mr. TORAM established himself at the corner of Ninth and Market Streets, in 1850, and by superintending the manufacture of every article himself his wares soon gained a reputation, and by liberal advertising and strict attention to business, he was soon forced to add room after room to his establishment, until his is now the most extensive establishment of the kind in Philadelphia, and being one of special interest to all housekeepers, we deem it worthy of this special notice. Mr. Toram is himself a master mechanic, a shrewd business man, and a gentleman. He superintends his own business and may be found at the establishment early and late. He is, in the strict sense of the word, a utilitarian, and the reader must not expect, should he visit his business place, to find a "showy" establishment, unless, indeed, a hive of industry and well stocked ware rooms of large dimensions but unpretending style may be considered showy. The place is an attractive one, however, and especially to young housekeepers commencing life and looking for home comforts. The varieties of style and gradation of prices are such as to enable one to purchase according to taste and with a certainty of purchasing at the lowest prices. Make a note of this, reader, and call at the establishment or send your order. Address STEPHEN TORAM, N. E. corner of 9th and Market streets, Philadelphia, and your furniture will be selected from a stock embracing everything from the best and most elaborate finish to the plainest and cheapest. All orders receive the personal attention of Mr. TORAM and his efforts to please are generally satisfactory.

Weakness of the Stomach and Indigestion.

Another Great Cure effected by Boerhave's Holland Bitters.

The wife of Pieter De Witte, living in Holland Town, Sheboygan county, Wisconsin, suffered much from Weakness of the Stomach and Indigestion. She had been under a physician's care for some time, but the disease seemed to baffle even his skill. She purchased some HOLLAND BITTERS at our office, which has given tone to her stomach; her appetite and strength are returning, and we firmly believe that this is another great cure effected by your medicine.

We have still to record many wonderful cures effected by this remedy, but must wait another opportunity. One thing you can rely upon, what we have published are from persons much respected in our community, and are literally true. J. QUINTUS,

JUSTICE TO THE SOUTH.

A NEW BOOK and one destined to create a sensation. Just Published.

THE SUNNY SOUTH

OR THE SOUTHERNER AT HOME,

Embracing Five Years experience of a Northern Governess, in the land of Sugar, Rice, Tobacco and Cotton. Edited by Prof. J. H. INGRAHAM, of Mississippi. Handsomely bound in one volume, 12 mo. 526 pages. Price $1.25.

Literary Notices from the Press throughout the Country.

THE SUNNY SOUTH.—This book is composed of a series of letters, written in an interesting style of a narrative, embodying the most romantic features of social life on different kinds of plantations. We can bear testimony, from our own personal observation of similar scenes in the South, to their truthfulness as here depicted. They are portrayed in a vivid, interesting style, and we would like to see the book in the hands of thousands of deceived people, who have no personal knowledge either of Southerners or Southern life, except what they have gained from partizan journals, or those who intentionally have written to deceive.—Daily Republic, Buffalo, N. Y.

THE SUNNY SOUTH.—This volume is in the form of letters. They give, so far as we can judge, faithful pictures of Southern life, and are penned without prejudice. They present scenes quite different from an 'Uncle Tom's Cabin,' the pictures presented here are quite graphic, and we think the portraits painted are in very nearly natural colors.—Boston Daily Bee.

THE SUNNY SOUTH.—We have rarely peeped within the covers of a more appetising volume. Although not intended as an answer to the foul untruths in the Uncle Tom trash of the last ten years, it nevertheless does unmercifully hurl back to their source all lies of such a nature, and we are glad to believe that the book will be read in thousands of northern homes. The south also should take to it benignantly, for independent of its truthfulness and integrity it is one of the liveliest and most entertaining books of the year.—Times, Greensboro, N. C.

THE SUNNY SOUTH.—The enterprising publisher, Geo. G. Evans, Philadelphia, of Uncle Rock notoriety, is wonderfully issuing new works of interest, and spreading them over the country, and his system of transacting business may be looked upon as an institution, for diffusing knowledge, unequalled by any in the country. We commend this book to all.—Daily News.

THE SUNNY SOUTH.—This is a captivating volume, strongly illustrative of Southern life. The heart of the authoress is with her theme, and she carries the interest of the reader along with her, as she, in her amusing off-hand style, delineates the peculiarities of a Southern home.—Press.

THE SUNNY SOUTH.—Whatever bears the name of Professor Ingraham is sure to involve the elements of striking effect and a wide popular currency: and this is just the case with "The Sunny South, or the Southerner at Home," which appears from the press of G. G. Evans, under the editorship of the graphic Professor. It is vivid in style, keenly observant, interesting in plot, and in purpose and manner it obviously springs from a warm heart, and will be as warmly welcomed by a host of readers.—New Yorker.

"This is the third Volume, and the completion of a series of works by the same author, on the history of the Israelitish monarchy. The origin under Moses, was treated of in the "Pillar of Fire," and its great glory under David is treated of in this work, (the Throne of David,) while the decline of Hebrew power and the opening of the new dispensation meet their delineation in the "Prince of the House of David." These works are historically valuable, as handbooks of information relative to the scenery, geography and manners of the Holy Land. The style is interesting and powerful and the work leads us to the contemplation and study of the sublime language of the Bible and the great doctrines of truth it contains, without being, as such books too ordinarily are, either maudlin, stupid, dogmatic or conceited."—Boston Daily Atlas.

"This work is designed to sketch the Hebraic history during the bondage in Egypt, the Prophet Moses being the central figure, and is a free and striking history of the period in which the writer gathers first, from the Bible and then from profane history a vast mass of material, which by his genius, is thrown into a fanciful narrative of the most attractive character which carries the reader along without diminution of interests."—Philadelphia Evening Bulletin.

"In this work the author has succeeded in the bold and daring task of presenting the great leading historical parts of scripture in connection with secular history, so as to present the clear and life-like picture of those events as they might be supposed to appear to a casual observer.—The descriptions of rights and ceremonials, are spirited and comprehensive. The style is highly imaginative and attractive, and we predict that this volume will be as popular as the "Pilgrim's Progress."—Presbyterian and Evangelist.

I beg leave to call the attention of the citizens of the United States to the above Wines and Liquors, imported by UDOLPHO WOLFE, of New York, whose name is familiar in every part of this country for the purity of his celebrated SCHIEDAM SCHNAPPS. Mr. Wolfe, in his letter to me, speaking of the purity of his Wines and Liquors, says: "I will stake my reputation as a man, my standing as a merchant of thirty years' residence in the city of New York, that all the Brandy and Wines which I bottle are pure as imported, and of the best quality, and can be relied upon by every purchaser." Every bottle has the proprietor's name on the wax, and a fac simile of his signature of the certificate.—The public are respectfully invited to call and examine for themselves. Read the following from the New York Courier:

ENORMOUS BUSINESS FOR ONE NEW YORK MERCHANT.—We are happy to inform our fellow-citizens that there is one place in our city where the physician, apothecary, and country merchant, can go and purchase pure Wines and Liquors, as pure as imported, and of the best quality. We do not intend to give an elaborate description of this merchant's extensive business, although it will well repay any stranger or citizen to visit Udolpho Wolfe's extensive warehouse, Nos. 18, 20 and 22, Beaver street, and Nos. 17, 19 and 21, Marketfield street. His stock of Schnapps on hand ready for shipment could not have been less than thirty thousand cases; the Brandy, some ten thousand cases—Vintages of 1830 to 1856; and ten thousand cases of Maderia, Sherry and Port Wine, Scotch and Irish Whiskey, Jamaica and St. Croix Rum, some very old and equal to any in this country. He also had three large cellars, filled with Brandy, Wine, &c., in casks, under Custom-House key, ready for bottling. Mr. Wolfe's sales of Schnapps last year amounted to one hundred and eighty thousand dozen, and we hope in less than two years he may be equally successful with his Brandies and Wines.

His business merits the patronage of every lover of his species. Private families who wish pure Wines and Liquors for medical use should send their orders direct to Mr. Wolfe, until every Apothecary in the land make up their minds to discard the poisonous stuff from their shelves, and replace it with Wolfe's pure Wines and Liquors.

We understand that Mr. Wolfe, for the accommodation of small dealers in the country, puts up assorted cases of Wines and Liquors. Such a man, and such a merchant, should be sustained against his tens of thousands of opponents in the United States, who sell nothing but imitations, ruinous alike to human health and happiness.

LOCAL ITEMS.

HUNTINGDON FAIR AND ENCAMPMENT.—Distressing Accident.—On Thursday morning last, we jumped aboard the Mail Train, Col. Weitzel, Conductor, and were soon "rushing over bridges" and "dashing through the vales" on our way to the "ancient borough," to see the sights to be seen at the military encampment and agricultural fair then in progress at that place. The train consisted of the usual express and baggage cars and six passenger cars, in which there were barely seats enough for those on board when it left this place. Passengers were added at all the stations between this and Spruce Creek and the train was over-loaded. At the latter station there were some 150 or 200 persons waiting to take the train. The scene here beggars description. The train had not stopped at the station ere the excited crowd began to pour into the cars, and soon every inch of space inside and outside, on which it was possible to obtain a foothold, was occupied. We have been in crowds before but never in one like this. We pitied the ladies, for certainly their hoops needed mending or straightening after getting out of the crowd. The train would not hold all the passengers to get on at this station, consequently some 25 or 30 had to wait for the Accommodation Train.—At Barree station and Petersburg there was 200 more passengers waiting, but they didn't get on this train. Some of them who were not piously inclined gave vent to their feelings towards to railroad and the crowd in terms more expressive than chaste. Notwithstanding their imprecations we arrived safely at our destination and found there the largest crowd that was ever seen in the town.

The encampment was a decided success. There were some 17 or 19 companies on the ground on Thursday. Gen. W. H. Keim, of Harrisburg, acted as Commander-in-Chief. Gen. Negley and staff, of Pittsburgh, and Gen. B. F. Bell and staff, of this Division, were also on the ground. A drizzling rain which continued to fall during the entire day, detracted very much from the pleasure of spectators, as also from the display the military would otherwise have made. The streets and houses in different parts of Huntingdon were decorated with arches and wreaths.

The fair was what we would call a failure, although the managers say that the receipts in money were larger than on any previous occasion, no doubt from the fact that there were more people in attendance at the encampment than are usually drawn to fairs. The only redeemable feature was the floral display. Some of the boquets were really beautiful. The centre of attraction on the fair ground appeared to be a baby, some seven months old, which weighs in neighborhood of 80 pounds, and which was exhibited at 15 cents a sight.

On Thursday evening a terrible accident occurred on the railroad track, in the vicinity of the depot, by which two men named Peter McCarty and James McMahon were instantly killed, and Francis Kane seriously injured. The facts, so far as we could ascertain them at the time, are as follows. There was to have been a Republican meeting in the place that evening, and a club of "Wide Awakes" were parading the streets, followed by a tremendous crowd of people. The club was passing down Railroad street at the time the Fast Line from the East was due at the station. The procession was a considerable distance above the station when the train came in, and, had it stopped at the station, as it should have done, the procession would have turned up the first street and been out of the way ere the train pulled out. But for some reason the breaks on the train would not hold, and instead of stopping at the station, it ran the length of the train past it, and into the crowd which was in the street above, causing the death and injury of the persons above named. Considering the crowd which was in the street, and the fact that there was a train of coal cars standing on the track next to that on which the train came in, which prevented people from getting off to that side, we think it miraculous that there were not more persons killed or hurt. The citizens of the town appeared to be very much excited after the accident, and were severe in their strictures upon the engineer of the train, but from what we can learn the accident was unavoidable on his part.

JESSE'S COME BACK.—Don't imagine that Jesse had left town "for good," as the saying goes, for in truth he was on a visit to the city of "Brotherly Love" to "lay in" his fall stock of Hats, Caps, Furs, &c., which he now offers to the public at prices which will "take," we mean, he'll take the money and you'll take the article. He has a fine assortment of Ladies, Misses and Children's Hats and Furs, to which he invites their special attention. If you want anything in the line of head-covering or furs, go to Jesse Smith's and examine his stock.

ELECTED.—At the election for Officers of Altoona Division, No. 311, Sons of Temperance, held on Saturday evening last, the following persons were elected to serve during the ensuing quarter:—W. P., A. D. Cherry; W. A., J. R. Finley; R. S., D. Irons; A. R. S., John R. Garden; F. S., D. J. Neff; T., M. Clabaugh; C., George McDonough; A. C., Wm. McCormick; I. S., Urish Hockenberry; O. S., John Boyles; Chaplain, Geo. R. Everson.

THE PRINCE OF WALES AT ALTOONA.—Long before the hour put down on the Special Schedule for the arrival of Baron Renfrew at this station, on Tuesday evening last, the vicinity of the depot appeared to be the head quarters of all who had nothing to do and were out for a pleasure walk. Of course, a great many did not care about seeing the Prince, but merely came to see the crowd, or had business in the vicinity. We went on business—for an item. The train, for some reason was delayed, and instead of arriving on schedule time, 5,40, it did not arrive until 6,15. For this reason the Prince and suite did not stop to dine at the "Logan House," as was first arranged. The delay of the train gave time for the crowd to increase, and by the time it arrived, we judge there were between 1,500 and 2,000 persons at the depot, a considerable portion of whom were ladies. The change in the programme, by which the Prince passed on without getting off the train, was quite a disappointment, nevertheless, he appeared at the rear end of the car, tipped his hat and made a graceful bow to those who stood in that locality, which was responded to by cheers from the crowd. He remained standing upon the platform while the train stopped, and a good portion of the crowd obtained a view of him.—He is a fair looking young man, but not composed of any better material than the greater portion of the young men in the crowd who stood around him, nor is he any more contented and happy in his position than are the mechanics who earn their bread by the sweat of their brow in the shops in this place. Three-quarters of a century since, so near a relative of the crowned head of Great Britain would have received a much warmer reception than was given the Prince of Wales on Tuesday evening last. But time has wrought a change. The people of this Republic no longer entertain that animosity toward the people of Great Britain that their forefathers did, from the fact that we are now their superiors and no longer fear them, hence we can be charitable and treat the heir, next in order to the throne in a civil manner, and even receive him enthusiastically, without being subject to the charge of fawning for favors.

BELL AND EVERETT MEETING.—The Friends of Bell and Everett held an enthusiastic meeting in front of the Post Office, in this place, on Friday evening last. They were addressed by ex-Gov. Moorehead, of Ky., one of the ablest stump speakers now travelling. His speech is said, even by those who do not agree with him in politics, to have been one of the best delivered in this place this season. The "Minute Men" to the number of 45 or 50 were out with torches, preceded by the Altoona Brass Band. The procession, numbering 65 or 70, marched through several streets, previous to the organization of the meeting. Everything passed off decently and in order, as should be the case at such meetings, there being no interruption by members of other parties.

NEW GOODS!—Ha! ha! ladies, we know you like such news as that. "Who has them?" we think we hear you ask, and with all possible speed we beg leave to make known that Messrs. J. & J. Lowther, at the "Model Store," have just received the largest, finest and prettiest stock of goods that ever graced their shelves, and you, who have seen their previous stocks, know that they were hard to beat; but they have eclipsed themselves this fall. They have brought goods for the ladies which the ladies did not know they needed, nevertheless, if they but call and examine the stock they'll find they need more than they imagined, and that the "Model" can supply them with everything.

RESIGNATIONS.—We are sorry to announce that Cols. J. J. Weitzel and Harry Gray have resigned their positions as Conductors on the Penn'a Railroad. Both the gentlemen named have been connected with the road in the capacity of Conductors, for over eight years, during which time they have made themselves hosts of friends, who will regret their resignation. In fact Col. Weitzel had become such an "institution" on the Mail Train, between this place and Harrisburg, that it seems almost impossible to do without him. His appearance at each station every day was as regular as the rising of the sun. We wish the retiring gentlemen every prosperity in whatever business they may hereafter engage.

"THE KETTLE."—The Register of last week notices some corn and peaches raised in Milligan's Cove, better known as the "Kettle," by Mrs. Lewis, of Gaysport, and says they are first rate articles. We have no doubt that as good grain and fruit may be raised in that "neck 'o timber" as elsewhere, but for the sake of our hunters we regret that this well known good hunting ground is to be broken up, as the axe of the settler is now being laid at the roots of the tall oaks, and the thickets of under-brush, the haunts of the deer and bear, will soon disappear, and with them the game which abounds therein.

POLE UP.—On Saturday evening last, the Bell and Everett party, of this place, raised a tall pole on the corner of Virginia and Annie streets, opposite our office. The pole is some 85 feet above the ground. On the top is a small flag, and about 25 feet below a red, white and blue streamer about 15 feet long. At a point level with the attic windows of Lowther & Plack's building, in which is the club room of the party, a rope is stretched across Annie street from the pole to one of the windows, and from this a large flag is suspended to the bottom of which is attached the names of Bell and Everett.

FINE WORK.—A day or two since, our dental friend, Dr. Bittner, exhibited to us a sett of teeth he had just finished for a lady in place. They were put up on gold plate and finished in a style which proclaims the Dr. a master workman in his line, and we doubt whether a better sett of artificial teeth ever went into any persons mouth. Every sett adds to his reputation as a dentist, and the secret of his success is that he fully understands his business and applies himself to it. Those who wish anything in his line need have no fears in entrusting their work to him, as he guarantees satisfaction and can give it.

☞ See "Great Rush to Dan's," in another column, and then call and examine his stock.

ACCIDENT WEST OF THE MOUNTAIN.—The Express Train west, on Friday morning last, met with an accident near Stewart's station, by which the baggage car and three passenger cars were precipitated down an embankment. It appears that the train was behind time and moving at a speed of twenty-five or thirty miles an hour, when the locomotive struck a cow and knocked her off the track, but she afterwards fell between the express and baggage car, throwing the latter and three passenger cars off the track, and injuring twenty-three persons, many of them slightly, and only three of the whole seriously. They were taken to Pittsburgh, where every possible attention was given them.

A FUSS UP STREET.—There has been a fuss and a rush up street for several days past, not to see a dog fight or to hear the lawyers call each other hard names and make out characters for their clients, at a V a head, before a dignified J. P., but to see the piles upon piles of new goods just opened at Joe Hileman's store. Joe went to the city a short time since with a big pile of money and he spent it all for the accommodation of the people of Altoona. He bought something for the old and young, grave and gay, rich and poor, everybody and the "rest of mankind," and all he now asks is that the people call and examine his selections.

BOQUET.—Our friend, D. M. Greene, has our thanks for a beautiful boquet of fall flowers.—He must have a fine assortment from which to select, to get one so handsome as that left with us. As we have said before, we love flowers, and always place them in the best article in the vase line, that we have, if it should be a dilapidated cream mug, (printers don't often have articles that are not useful as well as ornamental.) Every person who has a lot might have flowers. They add such a charm to home that we wonder why all do not have them.

CONTRACT AWARDED.—The contract to rebuild the railroad bridge across the Conewago, on the line of the Harrisburg and Lancaster Railroad, which was destroyed by fire some time since, has been awarded to Messrs. Piper & Shiffler. Col. J. L. Piper is of this place, and is the Superintendent of bridge-building on the Penn'a Railroad. The well known skill and energy of the firm in bridge building is sufficient guarantee that the work will be well and quickly done.

ATTENTIN FIREMEN!—The regular stated meeting of the Good Will Fire Engine and Hose Company, will be held in the Armory of the Logan Rifle Rangers on Monday evening next, October 8th. Every member of the company is expected and earnestly requested to be in attendance. By order of the President,
W. W. SMITH, Sec'y.

RELIGIOUS.—The regular quarterly meeting of the M. E. Church, of this place, will commence on Saturday evening next. Preaching on Saturday evening at 7 o'clock. Love Feast at 9 o'clock, and preaching at 11 o'clock on Sunday morning, after which the Sacrament will be administered.

EXHIBITION.—The exhibition to be given by the scholars connected with the M. E. Sunday School, of this place, will come off some time in the beginning of week after next. We shall refer to it more particularly next week, when we shall be able to give the exact time.

DEMOCRATIC MEETING.—A Democratic meeting will be held in Shultz's Hall this (Thursday) evening, to be addressed by S. M. Woodkok, Esq., and John B. Stall. As this will be the last rally before the Gubernatorial election, a full turn out is desired.

FOR RENT.—The Hall adjoining the Tribune Office, in Lowther & Plack's building, heretofore occupied by the Altoona Guards as an armory and by the Union printing office, is offered for rent. Immediate possession given, Apply to JAS. LOWTHER.

A Novelty in the Art World!
PHOTOGRAPHY UPON PORCELAIN.

Secured by letters patent in the United States, England, France, and Belgium.

THE AMERICAN PHOTOGRAPHIC PORCELAIN COMPANY, No. 781 Broadway, New York, having secured their novel and ingenious invention by American and European patents, are fully prepared to execute all orders for presenting all the attractive and advantageous features of ordinary photographs, the brilliancy and finish of a water-color drawing, and a hitherto unattained quality of durability, by being rendered as imperishable as the natural properties of the articles upon which they are transferred.

As the patented process of the Company enables the reproduction of Photographs, not only on plain surfaces, but upon such as are round or of any degree of irregularity—portraits can be reproduced with faultless accuracy, and delicacy of delineation, upon Porcelain wares of any description and dimension used as articles of luxury or of household utility, such as thereby securing faithful portraits and furnishing a unique and exquisite style of ornamentation of articles in domestic use.

In order to furnish facilities for the gratification of the popular taste, and to meet the wants of those patrons of the Fine Arts desirous of having Portraits on Porcelain, the Company have imported from Europe a collection of superior porcelain goods, manufactured to their own order, which they sell at cost prices.

As the American Company are owners of the patent right, and consequently the only persons authorized to use the process, they have determined, in order

an opportunity to possess

PORTRAITS ON CHINA,

to make the following proposition to Residents in the Country, who are unable to visit personally the Atelier and Galleries in New York.

Persons sending a photograph, ambrotype, or daguerreotype to the office of the Company in New York, accompanied by

they will secure in like manner,

A handsome French Vase or Toilet Article, with the Portrait reproduced by the patented process.

By sending a pair of daguerreotypes and

they will receive in return

A Pair of rich Sevres Vases, with the portraits executed equal to miniature paintings; and, in like manner, portraits can be reproduced on porcelain wares or

Vases of every Quality of Finish,

ranging in price from

Twenty to One Hundred Dollars the Pair.

STOMACH OR LIVER,

Such as Indigestion, Acidity of the Stomach, Colicky Pains, Heartburn, Loss of Appetite, Despondency, Costiveness, Blind and Bleeding Piles. In all Nervous, Rheumatic, and Neuralgic Affections, it has in numerous instances proved highly beneficial, and in others effected a decided cure.

This is a purely vegetable compound, prepared on strictly scientific principles, after the manner of the celebrated Holland Professor, Boerhave. Its reputation at home produced its introduction here, the demand commencing with those of the Fatherland scattered over the face of this mighty country, many of whom brought with them and handed down the tradition of its value. It is now offered to the American public, knowing that its truly wonderful medicinal virtues must be acknowledged.

It is particularly recommended to those persons whose constitutions may have been impaired by the continuous use of ardent spirits, or other forms of dissipation. Generally instantaneous in effect, it finds its way directly to the seat of life, thrilling and quickening every nerve, raising up the drooping spirit, and, in fact, infusing new health and vigor in the system.

NOTICE.—Whoever expects to find this a beverage will be disappointed; but to the sick, weak and low spirited, it will prove a grateful aromatic cordial, possessed of singular remedial properties.

READ CAREFULLY!

The Genuine highly concentrated Boerhave's Holland Bitters is put up in half-pint bottles only, and retailed at ONE DOLLAR per bottle, or six bottles for FIVE DOLLARS. The great demand for this truly celebrated Medicine has induced many imitations, which the public should guard against purchasing.

PROF. L. MILLER'S HAIR INVIGORATOR!!

AN EFFECTIVE, SAFE AND ECONOMICAL COMPOUND,

FOR RESTORING GRAY HAIR to its original color without dyeing, and preventing the hair from turning gray.

FOR PREVENTING BALDNESS, and curing it, when there is the least particle of vitality or recuperative energy remaining.

FOR REMOVING SCURF AND DANDRUFF, and all cutaneous affections at the Scalp.

FOR BEAUTIFYING THE HAIR, imparting to it an unequalled gloss and brilliancy, making it soft and silky in its texture and causing it to curl readily.

The great celebrity and the increasing demand for this unequalled preparation, convince the proprietor that one trial is only necessary to satisfy a discerning public of its superior qualities over any other preparation at present in use. It cleanses the head and scalp from dandruff and other cutaneous diseases, causes the hair to grow luxuriently, and gives it a rich, soft, glossy flexible appearance, and also where the hair is becoming and thining, it will give strength and vigor to the roots, and restore the growth to those parts which have become bald, causing it to yield a fresh covering of hair.

There are hundreds of ladies and gentlemen in New York who have had their hair restored by the use of this Invigorator, when all other preparations had failed. L. M. has in his possession letters innumerable testifying to the above facts, from persons of the highest respectability. It will effectually prevent the hair from turning gray until the latest period of life; and in cases where the hair has already changed its color, the use of the Invigorator will with certainty restore it to its original hue, giving it a dark, glossy appearance. As a perfume for the toilet and a Hair Restorative it is particularly recommended, having an agreeable fragrance; and the great facilities it affords in dressing the hair, which, when moist with the Invigorator can be dressed in any required form so as to preserve its place, whether plain or in curls—hence the great demand for it by the ladies as a standard toilet article which none ought to be without, as the price places it within the reach of all, being, per bottle, to be had at all respectable druggists and perfumers.

L. MILLER would call the attention of Parents and Guardians to the use of the Invigorator, in cases where the childrens' Hair inclines to be weak. The use of it lays the foundation for a good head of hair, as it removes any impurities that may have become connected with the scalp, the removal of which is necessary both for the health of the child, and the future appearance of its Hair.

CAUTION.—None genuine without the fac simile LOUIS MILLER being on the outer wrapper; also, L. MILLER'S HAIR INVIGORATOR, N. Y. blown in the glass.

EXCHANGE HOTEL.—THE SUBSCRIBER would respectfully inform the public that he has recently refitted the above Hotel, and is now prepared to accommodate his friends and patrons in a comfortable manner, and he will spare no pains in making it an agreeable home for all sojourners. His Table will always be luxuriously supplied from the markets of the country and cities, and his Bar filled with liquors of choice brands. His charges are as reasonable as those of any other Hotel in the place, and he feels satisfied they can not be complained of by those who favor him with their custom. Expecting to receive a share of public patronage, and fully intending to deserve it, he throws open his house to the public and invites a trial.

I have just received a stock of No. 1 French Brandy, for medicinal purposes.

Also a large stock of excellent Wines, for medicinal purposes, together with a lot of the best old Rye Whiskey to be found in the country.

MOFFAT'S LIFE PILLS and PHŒNIX BITTERS.

THESE MEDICINES HAVE NOW been before the public for a period of thirty years, and during that time have maintained a high character in almost every part of the globe, for their extraordinary and immediate power of restoring perfect health to persons suffering under nearly every kind of disease to which the human frame is liable.

The following are among the distressing variety of human diseases in which the

are well known to be infallible.

DYSPEPSIA, by thoroughly cleansing the first and second stomachs, and creating a flow of pure, healthy bile, instead of the stale and acrid kind; FLATULENCY, Loss or Appetite, Heartburn, Headache, Restlessness, Ill Temper, Anxiety, Languor, and Melancholy, which are the general symptoms of Dyspepsia, will vanish, as a natural consequence of its cure.

COSTIVENESS, by cleansing the whole length of the intestines with a solvent process, and without violence; all violent purges leave the bowels costive within two days.

FEVERS of all kinds, by restoring the blood to a regular circulation, through the process of respiration in such cases, and the thorough solution of all intestinal obstruction in others.

The Life Medicines have been known to cure RHEUMATISM permanently in three weeks, and GOUT in half that time, by removing local inflammation from the muscles and ligaments of the joints.

DROPSIES of all kinds, by freeing and strengthening the kidneys and bladder; they operate most delightfully on the latent portion of life; and in cases where the hair has already changed its color, the use of the Invigorator will with certainty restore it to its original hue, giving it a dark, glossy appearance. As a perfume for the toilet and a Hair Restorative it is particularly recommended, having an agreeable fragrance; and the great facilities it affords in dressing the hair, which, when moist with the Invigorator can be dressed in any required form so as to preserve its place, whether plain or in curls—hence the great demand for it by the ladies as a standard toilet article which none ought to be without, as the price places it within the reach of all, being,

HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS.

The proprietors and manufacturers of HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS can appeal with perfect confidence to physicians and citizens generally of the United States, because the article has attained a reputation heretofore unknown. A few facts upon this point will speak more powerfully than volumes of bare assertion or blazoning puffery. The consumption of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters for the last year amounted to over a half-million bottles, and from its manifest steady increase in times past, it is evident that during the coming year the consumption will reach near one million bottles. This immense amount could never have been sold but for the rare medicinal properties contained in the preparation, and the sanction of the most prominent physicians in those sections of the country where the article is best known, who not only recommend the Bitters to their patients, but are ready at all times to give testimonials to its efficacy in all cases of stomachic derangements and the diseases resulting therefrom.

This is not a temporary popularity, obtained by extraordinary efforts in the way of trumpeting the qualities of the Bitters, but a solid estimation of an invaluable medicine, which is destined to be as enduring as time itself.

Hostetter's Stomach Bitters have proved a Godsend to regions where fever and ague and various other bilious complaints have counted their victims by hundreds. To be able to state confidently that the "Bitters" are a certain cure for the Dyspepsia and like diseases, is to the proprietors a source of unalloyed pleasure. It removes all morbid matter from the stomach, purifies the blood, and imparts renewed vitality to the nervous system, giving it that tone and energy indispensable for the restoration of health. It operates upon the stomach, liver, and other digestive organs, mildly but powerfully, and soon restores them to a condition essential to the healthy discharge of the functions of nature.

Elderly persons may use the Bitters daily as per directions on the bottle, and they will find in it a stimulant peculiarly adapted to comfort declining years, as it is pleasant to the palate, invigorating to the bowels, excellent as a tonic, and rejuvenating generally. We have the evidence of thousands of aged men and women who have experienced the benefit of using this preparation while suffering from stomach derangements and general debility; acting under the advice of physicians, they have abandoned all deleterious drugs and fairly tested the merits of this article. A few words to the gentler sex. There are certain periods when their cares are so harassing that many of them sink under the trial. The relation of mother and child is so absorbingly tender, that the mother, especially if she be young, is apt to forget her own health in her extreme anxiety for her infant. Should the period of maternity arrive during the summer season, the wear of body and mind is generally aggravated. Here, then, is a necessity for a stimulant to recuperate the energies of the system, and enable the mother to bear up under her exhausting trials and responsibilities. Nursing mothers generally prefer the Bitters to all other invigorators that receive the endorsement of physicians, because it is agreeable to the taste as well as certain to give a permanent increase of bodily strength.

All those persons, to whom we have particularly referred above, to wit: sufferers from fever and ague, caused by malaria, diarrhœa, dysentery, indigestion, loss of appetite, and all diseases or derangements of the stomach, superannuated invalids, persons of sedentary occupation, and nursing mothers, will consult their own physical welfare by giving to Hostetter's Celebrated Stomach Bitters a trial.

CAUTION.—We caution the public against using any of the many imitations or counterfeits, but ask for HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS, and see that each bottle has the words "Dr J. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters" blown on the side of the bottle, and stamped on the metallic cap covering the cork, and observe that our autograph signature is on the label.
